

Claustrophobia

Question: What happens when you drop food coloring into a glass of water?

Materials:

clear glass

food coloring

science journal

pencil

©2010 ElementarySuccess.com

Claustrophobia

1. Place a glass of water on the workspace.
2. Squirt a few drops of food coloring into the glass of water.
3. Use your observation skills to look closely at the drops of food coloring when you first squirt it in the water. Describe and record what you observe in your science journal.

Observe the drops of food coloring in the glass of water over the next few days. Record your results.

